FCA

Over the past month, we've continued to see encouraging momentum on several campuses across the Salem area. God continues to open doors with students, coaches, and community leaders as the ministry grows.

At Sprague High School, approximately 40 students gathered for the FCA huddle. It was a meaningful time of encouragement and discussion around faith and leadership. During the message, five students made decisions to receive Christ, which is always a powerful reminder of why this ministry exists.

As Scripture reminds us, there is great celebration in heaven when even one person turns to the Lord.

We also recently gathered at West Salem High School, where about 45 students attended the FCA meeting. During that time, three students gave their lives to Christ.

At North Salem High School, we had an incredible turnout with approximately 52 students attending the FCA huddle. During the message and discussion time, five students made decisions to receive Christ, which was an amazing moment of celebration and encouragement. Seeing students boldly step forward in faith continues to remind us of the powerful impact campus ministry can have.

Beyond those decisions, there were several impactful conversations afterward with students asking deeper questions about faith and what it means to follow Jesus. There is strong potential to continue growing the ministry and expanding Kingdom impact on this campus.

Across Salem schools, we continue to see increasing student engagement and a growing hunger for faith-centered leadership and community.

Corban University invited me to speak at their huddle, and it was a great time of discussion and prayer over the students.

As we look ahead to the coming months, we would appreciate prayer in several areas:

• Continued growth and student leadership development on Salem campuses.

• Wisdom and unity as we explore a potential Faith in the Field community event.

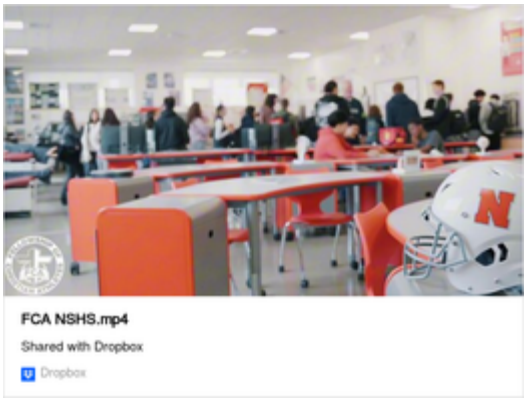

• New financial partners and donors to help sustain and expand the ministry.

• Open doors with coaches, administrators, and student leaders across the district.

Thank you to each of you for your continued encouragement, prayer, and support. The impact we are seeing on campuses across Salem is a direct result of faithful partnership and a shared commitment to reaching the next generation.

God is moving, and it's exciting to see students stepping forward in faith.
